

Third Party Data distribution

Offer of Boerse Stuttgart GmbH for Third Party Data distribution

In addition to the wide range of data products offered by Börse Stuttgart (price data, quotes, financial instrument master data to various asset classes, statistics, historical data...), Börse Stuttgart also offers the service of third party data distribution. Business partners can use this extensive distribution network of data providers, traders, fund managers, banks and other market participants of the Stuttgart Stock Exchange for their own purposes. In this way own data can be made available to the whole financial market in a highly efficient way.

Connection

Depending on the requirements of the data distribution (speed, data volume..) we currently offer two basically different data connection routes to the Börse Stuttgart:

- Via Point-to-Point or
- (S)FTP connection

The supplier's data is connected via these connection routes to the market data dissemination system (MDD) of the Börse Stuttgart. Currently, the Point-to-point connection is possible via the cable provider German Telekom, Colt Telecom and BT Radianz. The supplied data is distributed via the MDD to the financial market, indirectly by data providers as well as directly to end customers. In order to indicate clearly the data owner or to be able to ensure individual distribution the data is always provided with the identification code of the owner or supplier.

Distribution network

The Stuttgart Stock Exchange has currently 18 clients directly connected and around 300 clients indirectly connected to the MDD. These include reputable data providers such as Thomson Reuters, Bloomberg, SIX Financial Information, Interactive Data Managed Solutions and the vwd group. This extensive distribution network ensures data distribution to all relevant financial markets, websites, systems and front end.

Distribution & more

We offer high reliability due to a dual MDD backup system. This service is available on request up to 6 days a week (Sunday to Friday) around the clock. An extended data distribution is also possible on the non-trading days of BWWB (Baden-Württemberg Stock Exchange). In this way we meet the highest demands of data distribution and ensure data distribution for the U.S. or Asian market. If required, we can conclude a service level agreement for the required service with the supplier.

Service Level

Apart from distribution under certain conditions the following services can also be taken over by Boerse Stuttgart:

- administration (contracts, ordering process, reporting evaluation, invoicing process) as well as
- data marketing (sales)
